The app also includes in-app purchases available for premium features.6. Trivia CrackThe branding and user experience of Trivia Crack has been so consistently solid that you really do have to give it to 'em. Trust me, I want the people who made this game to make all the money they worked so hard for and more, however, there are so many ads that pop up in the middle of you playing. Credit: JEOPARDY! World tour The actual Jeopardy! show is in a bit of turmoil right now. And while Psych! is great for a game night, you can't play with randos online or bots — you have to be with a group of friends who also have the app downloaded on their phones to play. There aren't a ton of add-ons like the other games, but I find the simplicity of this game to be comforting. Jeopardy! World Tour is available for free on the Apple App Store iOS and on the Google Play Store for Android. You earn popcorn that you can use to change up your avatar or spend them on premium question packs and points can earn you bonuses to use as lifelines on movie questions that are a bit too tough. Say her name. Players can use power-ups to help them out in each round, like removing answers that aren't right or giving you some extra time to think. If the adds only happened once you lost I think this would be a lot better. The questions allegedly get more difficult as the game progresses, but I haven't really experienced anything too challenging. Credit: trivia star If you don't want to play against opponents, Trivia Star is probably one of the best trivia apps out there. So if you're looking to get stumped this might be one of the best trivia apps for you. Trivia Royale is available for free on the Apple App Store for iOS and on the Google Play Store for Android. Credit: psych! Psych! was created by Ellen DeGeneres and seems to be inspired by games like Balderdash, where you're encouraged to find the weirdest but still reasonable response to trivia questions to trick your friends. Another of the biggest problems for me is that sometimes when I press "watch an ad to get another chance" and I actually WILLINGLY sit there and watch an ad, IT DOESNT GIVE ME ANOTHER CHANCE!! I'm sure this is a glitch, but its one that makes me want to stop playing. The biggest downside, as is expected for most free apps, is that it's pretty ad-heavy. I started playing Trivia Crack in 2014, when Barack Obama was president and I was a student at the University of Arizona avoiding any and all classwork by defeating my peers with the then-useless material that wobbled around in my skull. Trivia Star is available for free on the Apple App Store for iOS and on the Google Play Store for Android. There are dozens of trivia apps and quiz games online, and, truly, most of them are full of delightfully addicting competitions that have users accidentally increasing their screen time by hours a day. If someone chooses your submission or if you answer correctly, you get a point! For $2.99, you can remove ads. One of the biggest problems with this trivia app is that you do have to pay for quite a few of the decks. After the death of beloved and longtime host Alex Trebek last year, the show has been cycling through guest hosts in an attempt to find a permanent replacement, including winner Ken Jennings, journalist Katie Couric, and talk show host and overall controversial guy Dr. Oz. The game app, which is free and downloadable for Android or iOS, still shows Trebek as the host. The app also includes in-app purchases available for premium features.5. Popcorn Trivia This movie trivia game is a great app for cinephiles. I played a few dozen of the free versions of trivia apps accessible on my iOS phone, and picked out my favorites. The goal is to answer correctly for each of the categories to win representative characters. Trivia Star is the ideal trivia game to play while you're watching TV or listening to a podcast — the stakes are low because you're not playing an opponent, and the questions aren't too difficult to answer while you multitask. The game is still pretty similar to how I remember it half a decade ago. Credit: trivia royale Trivia Royale starts out by asking you for your age, makes you create an avatar, and asks you to turn on your camera "to start facetracking." It recommends you join with Facebook so you can play with your Facebook friends, which is to say this game starts out feeling almost like a social media network of its own. Then, you match with friends or random opponents and play trivia in a series of six categories — entertainment, history, sports, art, geography, science, and "crown," which gives you the option to choose the category — until there's a winner. It's free on Android and iOS, and comes with quiz questions for all kinds of movies and genres. Game of Thrones wrapped last year and what better time to revisit the epic HBO fantasy series than during lockdown. The show racked up seismic audience numbers and impacted cultures around the world with its tense ancient politics, jaw-dropping battle scenes and heart-breaking twists. Once you're done, why not try our TV pub quiz, film pub quiz, or music quiz for size? You have two gameplay options, either playing solo in offline mode or against two randomly assigned opponents in a match. To clarify, I'm not opposed to ads at all. Say it! Name the orphan baker boy who befriends Arya Stark. What do the initials stand for in the infamous — and ultimately correct — Game of Thrones fan theory "R+L=J"? What is the name of the huge mercenary army commanded by Daenerys? Which character is often referred to with "Giantbane" in their name? Which vegetable-related nickname is Stannis Baratheon's right-hand man Davos Seaworth known by? Which character ends up being crowned King of the Six Kingdoms in the final episode? Answers: Coldplay, Tyrion Lannister (Peter Dinklage), Ghost, Robert Baratheon, Tamzin Merchant, Valar morghulis, Andals, First Men, Breaker, Mother, Balerion (the Black Dread), Deer (buck or stag also acceptable), Natalie Dormer, Casterly Rock, Khal Drogo pours liquid gold over his head, Oberyn Martell, Hot Pie, Rhaegar, Lyanna, Jon, The Unsullied, Tormund, The Onion Knight, Bran Stark (Bran the Broken), Can't get enough quizzing? Try some of our other quizzes now: I understand the game needs ads to fund making new features and to play the people that produce it. They're primarily for in-game currency that can buy power-ups and pretty much help you win. One of the biggest issues is that I'll answer a question and an ad will pop up!! I just want to play uninterrupted. There's a single-player and multiplayer mode. Trivia Crack 2 is available for free on the Apple App Store for iOS and on the Google Play Store for Android. Since the trivia questions are siphoned into more specific categories, they can be a more challenging than the questions in other games. It's free and downloadable for Android or iOS, but the premium version also gets rid of ads, gives you access to live events, and you get endless tickets, which you need to enter into a Trivia Royale tournament. Please fix these issues!! I want to keep playing this game! Again I commend everyone who's worked on this game and I sincerely hope it lasts a long time. More topics are added as you play, and if you pay $2.99 per week for the premium version, you have more access to fun, premium, pop culture-related topics like Netflix, Animal Crossing, and Bachelor Nation. I love this game. The app also includes in-app purchases available for premium features. There's a fun messaging option on the app to trash talk with your friends while you play. The flow matches that of real Jeopardy!, with three topics and three numeric point choices below that allow you to choose the difficulty of the question and the points you'll get if you answer correctly. 2. (67) What is the name of Jon Snow's direwolf? Who is king of Westeros at the very start of the show? Which British actress was originally cast as Daenerys in the unaired pilot episode? "All men must die" translates as what term in High Valyrian? Fill in the blanks for Emilia Clarke's original title: "Daenerys Stormborn of the House Targaryen, First of Her Name, the Unburnt, Queen of the — and the —, Khaleesi of the Great Grass Sea, — of Chains, and — of Dragons" The largest skull in the dungeons beneath King's Landing belonged to which dragon? Which animal does Tywin Lannister skin during his first appearance in the show? Which actress plays the role of Margaery Tyrell? Name the ancestral home of House Lannister. How does Viserys Targaryen die in season 1? Which character says the line: "Say it. For $1.99, you can buy the premium version, which is add-free. The app also includes in-app purchases available for premium features.4. Psych! Outwit Your Friends Ellen's Psych! is reminiscent of Balderdash, where you write the weirdest but still reasonable responses to questions to trick your friends. I've played it off and on for years, same with my mom and a few other family relatives, but with the constant bombardment of ads and the annoying glitches, I can't imagine my interest will be kept. Unlike the original version, Trivia Crack 2 has more quiz-based gameplay options for when you're bored of the classic version. Trivia Royale This game starts out feeling almost like a social media network of its own. The questions are more challenging than other games, primarily because they're movie-specific. Popcorn Trivia is available for free on the Apple App Store for iOS and on the Google Play Store for Android. The app also includes in-app purchases available for premium features.7. Trivia Crack 2 Eerily similar to the original Trivia Crack, in the classic option of this quiz game you spin a wheel that lands on one of six question categories: entertainment, history, sports, art, geography, science, and "crown," which gives you the option to choose the category. You can't win real money, like you can on the show, but it's a fun experience. The days of Alex Trebek's cherished Jeopardy! and Scott Rogowsky's controversial HQ Trivia are behind us, but that doesn't mean trivia is over. Trivia Star Trivia Star is the ideal trivia game to play while you're watching TV or listening to a podcast. Plus there's many, many more pub quizzes available as part of our bumper general knowledge pub quiz. Questions: The drummer for which famous band made a cameo appearance during the Red Wedding? How many episodes of Game of Thrones are there in total? Which character appears in more episodes than any other? Psych! is available for free on the Apple App Store for iOS and on the Google Play Store for Android. Unlike the show, though, the answers are multiple choice. 3. Then, you pick from five categories — Disney, Friends (the TV show), general, history, or logos (like brands) — and it matches you with a random real or bot opponent. You choose from five game options: classic, survival, treasure mine, trivia topics, and triviaathon. I'd also say that the questions are pretty easy, so I wouldn't recommend this if you're looking for something particularly challenging. Trivia Crack is available for free on the Apple App Store for iOS and on the Google Play Store for Android. Here are seven of the best trivia apps available for download.1. Jeopardy! World Tour You can't win actual money, like you can on the show, but it's a fun experience. Each player answers a goofy but still plausible answer and once all responses are collected, players have to figure out which answer is correct. The first player to win all of the characters wins the game. Like the original version, it isn't particularly challenging and the free version of Trivia Crack 2 has lots of ads. In fact, I'd be willing to watch ads for advantages like coins, "right answers", or even just hearts (although I'm at a surplus at the moment and don't need more). I don't particularly love the pay-to-win structure here, which makes it a losing experience to play with folks who pay for power-ups. The in-app purchases in this quiz game are also pretty wild — going all the way up to $99.99 for some items.
